A Sensible Suggestion

In the House of Commons budget debate Rev. E. G. Hansell (Social Credit, Macleod) made an interesting suggestion which should be adopted by the Government. He argued that every package of cigarettes should carry a stamp showing the amount of the tax. He went further, saying that Canadians have the right to know just what tax they are paying on each article they buy.

James Sinclair (Liberal-Coast Capilano) speaking for the government, said the amount of tax is not indicated on the government seal because if the tax were changed from budget to budget there would be a great deal of needless expense in recalling and reprinting stamps with the correct amount of the tax.

While there is some point in Mr. Sinclair's contention, his argument is not good enough. In the first place, the government could give the taxpayers a bit of a break in the event of any increase in the tax—God forbid!—by allowing the cigarettes in stock to be sold at the old rate. Mr. Sinclair's argument also overlooks the point that, as Mr. Hansell points out, it is the taxpayer's right to know the amount of the tax he pays. This right, it seems to us, far overshadows any possibility of an increase in cost of collecting. As for the latter, a changed design in the government stamp would not be too costly.

Mr. Hansell's suggestion applies to other things, of course. Liquor is another excellent example of commodities having a retail price composed mostly of taxes. Surely it is the consumer's right to know the amount of the taxes he pays.

Admittedly in British Columbia there would be some difficulty because here we have that abortive sales tax, but, fortunately, we are well aware of THAT each time we make a purchase. There is little need to indicate that on a printed label.

Indirect taxation enjoys considerable favor with 'taxing officials' because it is considered a "painless" extraction, with the purchaser never knowing the tax he pays. And yet the more appreciative of the amount of money his government is costing him, the better citizen any taxpayer will be.

Mr. Hansell's suggestion is good. There may be some difficulties, but they are not insurmountable. The suggestion should not be pigeon-holed by Mr. Abbott's department without a very careful study including consideration of the right of the taxpayer to know the amount he is being taxed.

The Sunshine Route

(Summerland Review)

Kelowna is a wide awake community which generally leads the entire Okanagan in progressive thinking. As such, it was no surprise when Kelowna popped up with the best idea proposed yet to publicize the Okanagan Valley as the foremost link in the chain of interior highways.

"The Sunshine Route" is the name proposed by Kelowna for Okanagan Highway No. 5. The name has a happy sound and would catch the imagination of any travel-minded citizen.

The Okanagan's place in the sun of interior motordom is a splendid one. Travellers over the Big Bend can now swing down through the Okanagan and to the coast via the Hope-Princeton highway with no additional mileage than if they travelled the Fraser Canyon route.

Travellers from the coast can drive over the Hope-Princeton section to the Okanagan and have their choice of driving north to connect with the Big Bend or south to continue over the southern transprovincial route to Alberta.

Which ever route is chosen, the Okanagan benefits from the influx of tourists who before shunned the valley many times because of the condition of roads leading to the Okanagan.

But not many persons outside the Okanagan are acquainted with these facts and therein lies a big publicity job which this valley must tackle immediately.

In order to publicize the Okanagan and its pleasant possibilities to the travelling public, a collective effort must be made by all boards of trade, business houses, tourist camps and other interested groups so that the fullest coverage possible will be realized.

An advertising campaign of this magnitude will require many thousands of dollars but we feel it is essential if the full benefits of the new highway are to be obtained.

The committee appointed by the Associated Boards of Trade of the Southern Interior, headed by President Bill Guernard of Penticton Board of Trade, to erect a huge Welcome sign at Kaleden junction could be the nucleus of such a publicity group.

Months of careful planning would be necessary to do a worthwhile job, so it behooves the boards of trade to take action immediately.

Adventure in Contentment

Five weeks from Saturday will be the night before Christmas and all through the house there will be evidence of it. In the pantry and refrigerator there will be a plentiful supply of festive food. Perhaps in the dining room the table will be ready, set with the best linen and silver, because that is one task that can be done ahead of time. The living room will probably have the brightest of the decorations, perhaps a tree. Once the children have been coaxed to bed and to sleep there will be added a pleasant clutter of the bulky toys about which letters are now being written to Santa Claus.

In the midst of this you will be so conscious of the good things of life that you will wish others were as well content as you are—for that is one of the blessings of happiness. We want others to share it. They say misery loves company but so does happiness, and is a lot likelier to get it.

At that point anything you have done for others, if recalled, brings pleasure, rather like the discovery of more money in the bank than you expected.

You are now being given a chance to contribute to your own feelings of contentment by doing something for others.

VOLUME 46

Kelowna, British Columbia, Thursday, November 17, 1949.

NUMBER 30

FRANK JANESCHITZ REACHED civilization last Sunday night after wandering around in the wilds of northern British Columbia for six days. The 42-year-old East Kelowna resident is shown embracing his two hunting pals, Johnny Evans and Johnny Bullock, who were responsible for organizing a search party. The trio, who arrived home late Tuesday night agreed "home never looked better."

Evans and Bullock still had a six-day growth of beard on their faces when the picture was taken. Janeschitz, however, was given a shave by provincial police at Quesnel. He also received new clothing as his hunting togs were torn to ribbons after wandering around the dense bush country.

"Lucky to be Alive," Says Lost Hunter After Wandering Around for Six Days

Frank Janeschitz thinks he's a lucky man to be alive today. The 42-year-old East Kelowna resident reached civilization Sunday night after wandering around in the wilds of northern British Columbia for six days. He and his two hunting companions, Johnny Evans and Johnny Bullock, arrived home late Tuesday night, and today the trio unanimously agreed "home never looked better."

Insofar as Evans and Bullock are concerned, they refused to accept the fact that Janeschitz would not safely return. They were responsible for notifying police authorities and also rounded up some Indian guides to scour the dense forest. Clad in heavy wood-plaid sport shirts and colorful checked hunting caps, the three East Kelowna hunters visited The Courier office and recounted their experiences.

Leaving here about two weeks ago, the trio made their camp at a small cabin 17 miles south of the Indian reserve at Nasoko. A week ago last Monday, the party split up, agreeing to meet at the cabin at noon for lunch. When Janeschitz failed to show up, Evans and Bul-

LESS FIRE CALLS THAN LAST YEAR

Fire calls in the city to date are 21 less than last year at the same time. Fire Chief Gred Gore disclosed today.

Eighty-eight calls have been made so far in Kelowna this year, majority of which were chimney fires or rubbish blazes, with negligible damage. At this time last year firefighters answered 109 pleas for help, one of which included the gutting of the new Kelowna Growers' Exchange packinghouse on south Ethel Street—the worst fire in Kelowna's history.

Milder weather with less intense firing in furnaces and stoves this fall, and less wind, are given as some of the reasons for the drop in the number of fires.

Latest fire call was on Thursday last week when an auto in the 1300 block Ellis Street became enveloped in smoke. The fire was extinguished by the unidentified owner before the fire truck arrived.

Police Radio Sets Ready Next Week

Will Instal Two-Way Frequency Modulation Sets in Police Cars

Final step in making B.C. Provincial Police in Kelowna as modern-equipped as anywhere else in the province comes off next week when two-way frequency modulation radio sets are installed in police cars. F.M. receiving and sending sets were set up in Kelowna and Penticton police offices some time ago.

When the two cars in the Kelowna area are radio-equipped, police will be able to send messages from station to car, from car to car, as well as from station to station.

Radio Technician S. E. Bulman-Fleming, in charge of maintaining B.C. Provincial Police radio, is expected in Kelowna next week.

Equipping Okanagan detachments with the latest in wireless is part of the over-all plan for the province. Mainland and Vancouver Island districts are so equipped already.

KELOWNA STORE FEATURES UNIQUE WINDOW DISPLAY

A local department store has captured the interest of the passer-by with a rather unique presentation as far as mannikins are concerned.

A man's overcoat is featured and the head of the man wearing the coat is a genuine pumpkin. A little red hat sits precariously on top while, two potatoes serve as ears. It is apparent that "his" back is turned and hair has been ingeniously glued to the back of his head to resemble a somewhat balding man.

THESE CHARMING PICTURES of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Charles were rushed to The Kelowna Courier after they were taken on Tuesday in the bright, cream-walled nursery at Clarence House, St. James' Park, where the child, who will one day rule the British Empire, celebrated his first birthday.

FERRY TRAFFIC

Local Board of Trade officials are watching the ferry traffic very closely. During the past two or three weeks there have been numerous complaints from motorists who have been left behind on both sides of the lake.

Local Merchants Decide Not To Stay Open Extra Hours During Christmas

LAST-MINUTE Christmas shoppers will have to get along without night buying again this year.

Retail stores will hold to their regular hours, even though the Provincial Government has granted permission to retailers to remain open one night during the final Yuletide rush.

The decision to abide by the shopping hours currently in effect was reached at Monday's meeting of the Retail Merchants' Bureau of the Kelowna Board of Trade.

But it's not altogether a glum situation for those who leave some of their shopping to the last minute or for those who forgot someone on their Christmas list. The day before Christmas (December 24) is a Saturday, and like all Saturdays from July 1, the stores will be open until 9 p.m.

Housewives will be advised to stock up well with provisions on that Saturday. Stores will be closed for three days—Sunday (Christmas Day), Monday, December 26 (Retailers' Christmas Day) and Tuesday, December 27 (observed by Retailers as Little Boxing Day).

Store-closing hours during the week before Christmas will be 5 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, and 12 noon on Wednesday—just the same as any other normal week during the year.

Saturday closing hours for the new year also was discussed at length at Monday's general meeting. Again the centre of contention was how long the 6 p.m. closing, that comes into effect at January 1 every year, should be maintained.

However, it was felt that for a new executive would be elected at the general annual meeting in the third week of January, it would be unfair to saddle it with any previous legislation.

Shop Early

Members agreed to close stores on Saturdays at 6 p.m. from January 1 to the end of February. Then it will be up to the new executive to decide on further action.

Mention of reviving the Christmas preview also came up at Monday's meeting but due to lack of time this year, the matter was tabled.

All members were urged by the executive to press a campaign for customers to do their Christmas shopping early this year to avert last-minute rushes and confusion.

And here's a reminder: As of today there are 32 shopping days before Christmas.

G. C. BOTTGER NEW PRESIDENT KELOWNA CLUB

G. C. Bottger was elected president of the Kelowna Club by acclamation at the annual meeting held Monday night, while E. M. Carruthers was chosen vice-president.

Members of the executive are D. C. Fillmore, Walter Hotson, and G. D. Imrie. Satisfactory reports were submitted by heads of the various committees. Membership of the club was reported at an all-time high.

Contrary to public opinion, speed is not the major factor, as 75 per cent of the points are awarded for quality of the pack. Mrs. Bohren, prior to the year it was considered one of the major events during the packing season.

During the height of the packing season, it is nothing unusual for women to pack over 200 boxes in a being borne by their employers seven and a half hour shift.

burgh, poses with his mother, Princess Elizabeth. In keeping with King George's desire, the celtic cake was kept as private as possible. The 40-pound birthday cake, complete with one candle, caused considerable consternation in W.C.T.U. circle, because the cake was flavored with a small amount of rum. Incidentally, Prince Charles did not eat the cake.

Two Kelowna School Trustees Resign and Third Man Refuses To Run For Office Next Month

GLENMORE REEVE WILL NOT SEEK OFFICE AGAIN

Reeve Charles Henderson of Glenmore announced this week he would not run for office on the municipal council after his term of office expires at the end of the year.

"I haven't enough time to do justice to the municipal duties and my own personal work," Reeve Henderson explained to The Courier. He has a 45-acre fruit farm in Glenmore.

While he intends to disassociate himself completely from the council, he has no thought of becoming inactive in community affairs. The present reeve and head councillor for the past four years has been in the thick of many community endeavors ever since he and his family moved to Glenmore in 1928 from the Comox area, near Vernon.

Two other members of the municipal council—Dr. M. J. Butler and C. Lipsett—also will see their two-year terms expire this year. Councillors L. E. Marshall and P. R. Mowbray have another year to go. Dr. Butler doesn't intend to seek a second term, but Mr. Lipsett is undecided.

Nomination day for the three vacancies on the Glenmore council is December 1. If more than three contest the seats, election day is December 10.

Sam Pearson, Jr., fruit farmer, already has filed nomination papers at the municipal office.

Pollard, Mervyn, Adam To Leave Board

TWO local trustees of Kelowna School District No. 23 have tendered their resignations to the board, and a third member, whose term expires the end of this year, has declined to seek office again.

This was officially confirmed this morning when A. R. Pollard, chairman of the board, stated "pressure of business" has forced him to resign, while Gil Mervyn stated "uncertainty of future plans" is the reason for his action. Both Mr. Pollard and Mr. Mervyn have one more year to serve.

The third member is E. L. Adam, whose two-year term expires the end of this year. "Pressure of business" is also the reason given by Mr. Adam for not seeking office again.

Mr. Mervyn resigned more than a week ago, while Mr. Pollard's resignation will be officially received by the board at the next meeting on Wednesday. The action necessitates three new members being named at the civic elections in December. According to well-informed sources, no candidates have signified their intention of seeking the trustee's posts.

Both Mr. Mervyn and Mr. Pollard declined to elaborate on their reasons for resigning. They refused to confirm the rumor that a considerable amount of friction has existed in school affairs, especially within recent months.

Resignation of the two men, and refusal of a third to seek office again, places the City of Kelowna in a serious position in view of the fact the city has to bear the greatest proportion of educational costs in this area. In addition to the three Kelowna trustees, the nine-member board is composed of G. C. Hume, Glenmore; George Day, Rutland; Nigel Pooley, who is filling the unexpired term of the late J. R. J. Stirling for East Kelowna district; P. K. Wynne, Oyama; J. Seltenich, Westbank, and J. Mohler, Peachland.

Since the Kelowna school board was incorporated with the Kelowna School District No. 23 more than three years ago, there has been a continual change of local trustees.

For years, Dave Chapman, Sr., chairman of the Kelowna school board, and when the enlarged school area was brought into being Mr. Chapman remained chairman of the board for a short time. G. C. Hume replaced him as chairman.

Other Representatives

Since then local trustees have included Bert McKim, James Brydon, Mrs. E. W. J. Patterson, A. R. Pollard, Gil Mervyn, and E. L. Adam.

In addition to the three Kelowna trustees leaving the board at the end of the year, terms of Mr. Wynne and Mr. Seltenich also expire. Mr. Day and Mr. Pooley have one more year to serve. It was not known whether Mr. Mohler has another year on the board.

Mr. Baulkham, also of Penticton, the only passenger, also was thrown out of the auto, but escaped unhurt. Mr. Baulkham is a brother of Ernie Baulkham, Kelowna.

PENTICTON MAN DIES AS RESULT OF CAR CRASH

KAMLOOPS—Carl Hafner, 48-year-old Penticton orchardist, died in Royal Inland Hospital Saturday night of head injuries received in a mishap on the "Sandhill" sector of the Kamloops-Vernon road, a mile south of Monte Creek.

The Kamloops-bound vehicle left the road and turned over as it was negotiating a right-hand turn on the highway. The smashed car ended upright on its wheels.

James Baulkham, also of Penticton, the only passenger, also was thrown out of the auto, but escaped unhurt. Mr. Baulkham is a brother of Ernie Baulkham, Kelowna.

Kelowna Woman to Carry Okanagan Valley's Colors In Apple Packing Contest

TWENTY contestants will be competing for the "Packing Queen" honors in the International Apple Packing Contest to be held in Yakima on Saturday, and two Okanagan Valley packinghouse employees will be carrying Canada's colors in the contest which has attracted considerable attention throughout the Pacific Northwest.

Mrs. Ann Bohren, 31-year-old employee of the B.C. Orchards Cooperative Association left here Thursday afternoon and will be accompanied by Mrs. Violet Markin of Penticton. Both women emerged winners in the elimination contest held in Kelowna a week ago.

Contrary to public opinion, speed is not the major factor, as 75 per cent of the points are awarded for quality of the pack. Mrs. Bohren, prior to the year it was considered one of the major events during the packing season.

During the height of the packing season, it is nothing unusual for women to pack over 200 boxes in a being borne by their employers seven and a half hour shift.

Gov't Agrees to Property Transfer and Will Build New Ferry Slip, Seawall

SATISFACTORY arrangements have been completed between the city and the provincial government for the transfer of land which will pave the way for construction of the proposed provincial government building overlooking Lake Okanagan, immediately north of Mill Avenue.

The government has also agreed to construct two ferry slips at the west end of Mill Avenue to replace the present wharf, and will also build a concrete sea wall, overlooking the lake where the proposed government building will be located.

Word to this effect was revealed today by Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games after the Chief Magistrate and Alderman J. J. Laund conferred with Hon. E. C. Carson, provincial minister of public works. The civic officials returned from Victoria yesterday after flying to the B.C. capital.

Mr. Hughes-Games said the transfer of property had been held up by the attorney general's department. Under the arrangement the city has agreed to transfer civic centre property with that owned by the provincial government. Reason for the delay was due to the fact it is the first time the attorney general's department has acquired land with conditions attached to it.

A plebiscite calling for the exchange of property will be put before local ratepayers in the December civic elections.

GOLFERS, LAWN BOWLERS PLAN ANNUAL PARLEYS

Two active outdoors organizations with large memberships are holding their annual general meetings next Wednesday, for elections of officers, hearing annual reports and other business.

The Kelowna Golf Club meeting will be held at the new Legion Hall at 7:30 p.m. preceded by a dinner at 6:30.

The Kelowna Lawn Bowling Club's annual meeting is set 8 p.m. at The Willow Inn. Trophies won during the year will be presented to the winners at that time.

FRUIT LOCAL WILL SUBMIT RESOLUTIONS

EAST KELOWNA — The South East Kelowna local B.C.F.G.A. approved a number of resolutions to be submitted to the forthcoming B.C.F.G.A. convention to be held in Penticton in January, 1950. L. G. Butler, speaking briefly on the fruit business, claiming the prices and prospects were not as bright as they were a few years ago.

Election of officers for the coming year was deferred until the next meeting as many representatives were not present owing to the delay in sending notices to fruit growers on route R.R. 3. F. Thorneley was elected temporary chairman until a regular executive can be formed.

The other day a friend was crying the blues about our B.C. highway system on the grounds that "it could not compare with United States roads."

His remarks reminded me of the man who complains about his wife's spending habits. "If she'll only keep our spending in line with the Brown's whose income is less than ours, everything would be dandy," he would say. "But the trouble is she is always trying to keep up with the Black's who make far more money than we do."

The two situations, I think, are quite similar. When this chap goes for trips into the United States he invariably, following his return, praises the U.S. highways and denounces those in British Columbia. No one can deny that the roads of this province (they're improving — and how!) compare unfavorably with those of some of the states of the union. But is it fair to compare them? Is it any more fair to judge B.C.'s highway system on a basis of, say, Washington's, than it is for his wife to compare her modest diamond ring with the bushel of ice adorning the fingers of Mrs. Black?

To be honest about it, the B.C. motorist should remember that the Washington and the other states get a high amount of federal aid in their highway construction. B.C. and all the other Canadian provinces get none. In assisting the roads of this province, he should compare them not with those of a rich and populous state like Washington but with those of a Canadian province whose climatic conditions, population and income are comparable with our own.

If, instead of touring in the United States, he drives for a thousand miles or so in our neighboring provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, he will have a great sigh of thankfulness when he finally gets back on the B.C. highway system and will readily acknowledge that his province is not doing badly by him.

— r.p.m. —

Despite the fact that we all acquire epitaphs sooner or later, nobody seems to give much thought to composing them nowadays. An English clergyman recently complained that the inscriptions in British churchyards were losing their old-time variety and vividness, and the same thing is true in Canada and the United States. The average tombstone today contains nothing but the name of the deceased and the brief note "Born . . . Died . . ."

In other times it was different. A man's epitaph was a matter of great moment and required careful thought. Sometimes the deceased had composed it himself as he felt death approaching, sometimes a recognized poet was engaged. At certain periods, epitaphs ran to great length; Alcibiades, for example, had composed for his tomb a Latin poem of his own composition which covers three or four pages in type. But normally what was aimed at was a brief, sharp epitaph, which would impress the beholder with the special quality of the person who lay buried there.

Perhaps the most famous of these is the epitaph of Sir Christopher Wren in St. Paul's Cathedral: "If you seek his monument, look about you." Another well-known one is Jonathan Swift's: "Where savage indignation can read no more his heart." The most celebrated epitaph of ancient times was perhaps that of Alexander the Great: "This tomb suffices him for whom the world did not suffice."

It must not be thought, however, that these old epitaphs were invariably flattering; on the contrary they were often too true to be kind. An incompetent French general once contrived to have his tomb placed among those of Napoleon's marshals; after his death it received the inscription: "Here beside glory lies the vainglorious."

Even more devastating examples are to be found scattered in country churchyards. Perhaps the cruellest is the measured comment of a long-suffering English wife on her husband: "Here lies the body of Richard Hynd, who was neither industrious, sober nor kind."

Unintentional humor is also frequent. The tomb of an English bishop, an inveterate foe to revivals and evangelism, informs us that he "preached for forty years without enthusiasm." A New England woman placed on her grandfather's gravestone a solemn statement that his death was due to a chill in April; he hoped it would warm others.

against folly of doffing their red flannels too early. Then there is one in Ontario which describes the deceased as weighing 400 pounds and concludes with "Open wide, ye 'Hearty Gates!'"

A revival of the practice of epitaph-writing would certainly make our cemeteries more interesting.

U.S. ORCHARD YIELDS 2,310 BOXES AN ACRE

CASHMERE, Wash. No special fertilizer, no unusual methods, yet a two-acre orchard of Red Delicious here produced 4,270 boxes of apples this year—so far as is known a record for the state.

The Bert French Ranch on Flomery Divide, two miles west of Cashmere, has long been a fruitful producer of apples. But this year, with an average of 2,310 boxes an acre, the ranch has outdone even itself. Bert French, now 56 years old, helped his father, J. H. French, put out the orchard in 1904. They had just come from Illinois. The trees were White Winters and Jonathans. Fifteen years ago, French grafted them over to Red Delicious.

"It's always been a good producer," French said of the where French's apples were packed, by Al Weiss, who also had no explanation. Of the 4,270 loose boxes, 3,547 were packed out. "It's amazing," Weiss said. An average production of 1,000 to 1,200 boxes per acre. But French's two acres are always above the average.

The figures were confirmed at the Cashmere Fruit Exchange. French's apples were packed, by Al Weiss, who also had no explanation. Of the 4,270 loose boxes, 3,547 were packed out. "It's amazing," Weiss said. An average production of 1,000 to 1,200 boxes per acre. But French's two acres are always above the average.

EAST KELOWNA PLANS TURKEY SUPPER DEC. 3

EAST KELOWNA — Arrangements for the "Turkey Supper" followed by a social evening and dance to be held in the Community Hall on Saturday evening, December 3, highlighted the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute last Tuesday evening.

With the vice-president in the chair, and approximately twenty members present, the business of the meeting was dealt with prior to discussion on the gala evening of the supper and dance. Tickets for the supper and dance are now on sale and may be any age.

Tuberculosis in the earlier stages frequently has no outward signs or symptoms — yet this is the stage when the patient responds best to treatment. In many communities Christmas Seal funds are used chiefly to find these unsuspected cases, their chance of recovery may be increased at the same time that their danger of infecting others is decreased.

More people die of tuberculosis between the ages of 15 and 44 than to any other one cause, but no one is immune. TB can be contracted at any age.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS
by Don Graham

Everyone should bluff—sometimes!

Of course I do not approve of the kind of bluffing which conceals unworthy motives. But, in certain situations, I think it is desirable and even necessary to hide our real feelings from others.

For example, a doctor of my acquaintance always appeared to be in good spirits. Highly successful and widely beloved in his community, he radiated cheerfulness and goodwill toward all. And his conversation was invariably spiced with humorous comments and stories.

Yet for the last ten years of his life this man was suffering from an incurable and painful disease! No one except his wife knew his fatal secret—a secret he kept to the very end.

What a magnificent bluff! What an inspiring example for all of us to follow when we are ill, out of sorts, worried or depressed!

By the same token, surely it is also a good policy to conceal most of our minor disappointments, annoyances, and dislikes.

If you are at all concerned about your own or your family's financial security, do not conceal that fact from everyone. Confide in your life insurance agent. He's a trained and will be under the supervision of the local Kiwanis club.

At least two events have been scheduled to call nation-wide attention to National Kids' Day. The first is planned for today when premieres of the new motion picture "Johnny Holiday" will be shown simultaneously in Indianapolis, Hollywood, Cal. and Ottawa. All proceeds from these premieres will be donated to local Kiwanis Clubs on a division basis for work with underprivileged children.

BERLIN SLOWLY EMERGES FROM RUBBLE

Berlin is slowly but surely emerging from the pile of rubble which Allied soldiers saw after the war. Abject poverty is evident, as shown by the old man, left, scavenging in U.S. army dumps for bits of metal which he sells to obtain enough food to live. The mountains of brick and stone are disappearing to make way for curbside "stores," right, and for hundreds of buildings, some of them well constructed and modern in design. Occupation authorities are encouraging the building of private homes.

Children in Kelowna and District Join Thousands of Other Kiddies In Observing "National Kids Day"

The youngsters of Kelowna and district will join hundreds of thousands of children throughout Canada and the United States this Saturday afternoon in celebrating the first "National Kids Day" sponsored by the Kiwanis International. Free hockey, ice-skating, and races will highlight the afternoon's activities at the Memorial Arena from 2 to 5 o'clock.

The purpose of National Kids' Day is to provide a focal point and promotional device so that the potent forces in the community can use this day to emphasize the need for combating juvenile problems. National Kids' Day will be celebrated for the first time this year on Saturday, and in succeeding years, the third Sunday in November will be designated as the date for observance.

Because the problems of underprivileged children cannot be solved without providing additional money, Kiwanis clubs throughout the United States and Canada will conduct fund-raising drives in connection with National Kids' Day. The money raised will remain in the community to be spent in assisting underprivileged youth. The distribution of the funds raised will be under the supervision of the local Kiwanis club.

At least two events have been scheduled to call nation-wide attention to National Kids' Day. The first is planned for today when premieres of the new motion picture "Johnny Holiday" will be shown simultaneously in Indianapolis, Hollywood, Cal. and Ottawa. #### N.H.L. ALL-STARS CONDEMN TOBACCO, ALCOHOL

Tobacco and alcohol? Tabu for any boy who is sincere in becoming good at any sport—especially if he wants to reach the top in one or more chosen fields. This stand against the injurious effects of Lady Nicotine and Johnny Barleycorn is taken by virtually every top fighter in the branches of sport. It is gratifying to note that some of today's great names in Canada's national sport share the same view—during an era that shows consumption of cigarettes and liquor increasing at an alarming rate. So, any youngsters within eyesight of this: If you would be a great hockey player, give a look

JACK STEWART, National Hockey League all-star left defence last year, says: "As for alcoholic drinks, leave them strictly alone—the best they can do for you is ruin your health."

ROY CONACHER, N.H.L. all-star left wing, is less condemning but definitely against them. "Drinking is out the question either during the season or between seasons," observes Conacher. "Smoking, of course, is harmful to the wind so youngsters are urged to refrain."

"Drinking is absolutely 'out' if you hope to keep in top form," according to BILL QUACKENBUSH, chosen right defence on last year's all-star N.H.L. squad. "As for smoking, I don't smoke myself... but I can't believe smoking could be beneficial to conditioning."

The above are excerpts from the latest in the growing list of manuals on how to play hockey. I have just completed reading a copy of "How We Play Hockey" by the six all-stars of last year—Bull Durnan, Maurice Richard and Sid Abel, in addition to the three named already. I can't help but agree with the editor of the manual—ANDY O'BRIEN of the Montreal Standard—who says: "I found the replies written out at home by the All-Stars were packed with comments of the 'inside' category—comments with information intriguingly new even after 17 thrilling years in N.H.L. press boxes, haunting the dressing rooms and chatting through innumerable travel hours with the game's shifting panorama of greats."

NOT SO MUCH LUCK

I stressed first the comments on alcohol and tobacco because of the serious inroads these two "killers" are making among our youth of today. But in this booklet are pages of interesting facts that should appeal not only to those who want to amount to something in hockey, but to everyone who is a sports fan. For example, I found that wingmen Conacher and Richard differ on the question of high-speed passing as well as how to dodge a persistent cover. Abel says it's wrong to regard today's centre as primarily a playmaker. Quackenbush and Stewart have their own definite views on the effects of bodychecking. Reading what the great goaltender Durnan has to say reveals that goaling has far more science and much less luck than we usually think.

Durnan finds the low, ankle-high shot to the wide side of the net the hardest to stop. The "Rocket" suggests "it is best not to shoot higher than two feet off the ice." Abel and Conacher go for the ankle shot. But among the six all-stars, there isn't a great deal of support for the slap-shot.

There is food for thought for all youngsters when the Big Names give their answers to the question on whether they advise pro hockey as a career.

EDUCATION FIRST

Durnan—Yes, on one condition: That he first make sure of a good education. A hockey career gives you a good foundation and tremendous opportunities for the future—if one has the educational qualifications to make the most of same.

Quackenbush—"... It's a swell career unless one abuses it..."

Richard—"If a boy is good at school, he should never quit to play hockey for a living. I also think a boy who is very small should not think of a pro career..."

Abel—"Yes, a hockey career is as good as they come... You have to lead a clean life to get to the top and stay there... He should strive to get established in some business while he is in the limelight..."

Conacher—"Yes... Consideration should be given to off-season employment with a definite future... A hero today may be forgotten tomorrow..."

YOUNG PUCKSTERS BEGIN 45-GAME SKED SATURDAY

Kiwanis Have 120 Potential Hockey Stars Playing in Bantam Pool

Kiwanis bantam hockey pool digs down in earnest on Saturday when the six teams—all named after National Hockey League squads—embark on the 45-game schedule that used up every Saturday morning until the end of February.

Some 120 boys of 13 years down now are learning the finer points of hockey under the Kiwanis committee headed by George Yochim. Good coaching and supervision is making the bantam pool even more successful than last year's initial try.

In Saturday's final exhibition game before the league play starts, Albert Klingberg came up with his second shutout as the Maple Leafs blanked Rangers 2-0 on goals by Henry Goule and Sam McGladery. Klingberg still came out on top, squaring his Hawks' goal to Dalo Gregory who posted two blankings in the first two games.

Casey Hat-Trick

Gregory looked back at the rubber twice on Saturday, but his Hawks still came out on top, squaring by the Bruins 3-2, as Dennis Casey punched in all of the Hawks three goals for a hat-trick.

Ennis and Joe Kitchner were the Bruins' marksmen, with George Travis assisting the latter.

Billy Covey, Edward McGinnis and Peter Zodorozny paced the Red Wings to a 3-1 triumph over the Canadiens, also on Saturday. Harry Tanemura got the Canucks' only tally, on a double relay from Glen Dowle and Albert Anderson.

Complete schedule for the bantam league follows:

Nov. 19—Canadiens vs. Rangers, 8:30; Bruins vs. Red Hawks, 9:30; Maple Leafs vs. Red Wings, 10:30.
Nov. 20—Rangers vs. Bruins, 8:30; Hawks vs. Leafs, 9:30; Wings vs. Canadiens, 10:30.
Dec. 3—Rangers vs. Hawks, 8:30; Wings vs. Bruins, 9:30; Leafs vs. Canadiens, 10:30.
Dec. 10—Canadiens vs. Bruins, 8:30; Leafs vs. Rangers, 9:30; Hawks vs. Wings, 10:30.
Dec. 17—Canadiens vs. Hawks, 8:30; Wings vs. Rangers, 9:30; Bruins vs. Leafs, 10:30.
Dec. 24—Hawks vs. Bruins, 8:30; Wings vs. Leafs, 9:30; Rangers vs. Canadiens, 10:30.

Stamps Trip Firemen to Take Over Top Spot in Commercial Puck Loop

Second victory in a row was rung up by the Stampede Sunday as they took over first spot in the Commercial Hockey League.

By virtue of their 4-2 triumph at the expense of the Herbie Sullivan's, Firemen, Stampede now have four points, one better than McGavin's and Black Bombers, both tied for the runner-up spot. The Firemen and the Stampede pulled off wins Sunday, the former smothering the Rowing Club 9-0 and the latter edging the Sawmill sextet 5-4.

Ernie Johnson came up with the Firemen's first shutout as the strong-arm Bombers outplayed the Rowing Club in their first game of the year. Previous Sunday, the oarsmen were idle, the seventh team in the league that has six playing each Sunday.

Boyd with four and Harold Johnston with three paced the Bombers to their 9-0 verdict. Six of the goals came in the first period, the rest in the second, giving Lou Guidi a rough time in the Rowing Club cage.

Eddie Witt, Jimmy Eldon and George Garrow each scored once and drew an assist in pacing the Stampede to their 4-2 triumph over the firefighters. Hugh Dryborough scored their other tally.

Coach Sullivan counted first for the Firemen, with Bruce Paige getting the other. Dave Chapman assisted both.

The lead see-sawed in the Sawmill-McGavin's fixture twice before the dough-boys sewed it up with two goals in the final chapter. Dave Newton and Glen O'Shaughnessy figured in all of the other two, as well as helping Newton on his trio.

Taylor showed the way for the losers with a brace of markers. Welder and Catchum got the others. This Sunday the mill crew meet Rutland at 10:45 a.m.; Rowing Club take on Stampede at 2:30 p.m.; and Firemen and McGavin's hook up at 3:40 p.m.

MIDGET HOCKEY LEAGUE STARTS

Last week's minor hockey deadline found four teams entered in the local midget set-up and three in the juvenile.

Confirming entries in the midget section at last week's meeting of the Kelowna and District Minor Hockey Association were Rutland Aces, East Kelowna Knights of Columbus and Air Cadets.

The three juvenile squads are Rutland, Kelowna Rural Athletic Club and a city team, still without a sponsor or a name.

The midget loop (for boys 16 and under) got off to a start on Monday when Air Cadets, showing much improvement over last year, downed East Kelowna 9-0.

The juveniles, pending finding a sponsor for the city boys, are expected to get going on November 22. The committee pointed out for the attention of all teams that the coach or manager must be present before games can be played.

CANADIANS' WIN STRING SNAPPED BY ELKS 7-5

(Special to The Kelowna Courier)

KAMLOOPS—Starting like mad from the opening whistle, Kamloops Elks handed the Vernon Canadians their first loss in eight starts when they defeated them 7-5 in a fast and furious Mainline-Okanagan senior puck game here Monday night.

The Elks beat the scrappy Canucks at their own game as they forechecked them into the ice. Time and time again they broke up Vernon plays before they got started.

The fixture, played at a terrific pace throughout, was the best seen here in the new season. The two teams were about as evenly matched as the score indicated.

Elks jumped into a 2-0 first period lead, outscored the Canadians 4-3 in the sandwich session and tallied one to Vernon's two in the final period.

Jack Forsey led the Elks' snipers with a three-goal hat-trick. Johnny Ursaki scored two and Steve Witluk and Don Campbell one each. Vernon goal-getters were Len Sullivan, Len Wallington, Bud Kobussen, Art Davidson and Ron Jakes.

First Period—1, Kamloops, Witluk (Sullivan) 2:21; 2, Forsey (McDougall) 10:24. Penalties—Witluk, Davidson, Campbell.

Second Period—3, Vernon, Sullivan (Wallington) 3:52; 4, Vernon, Kobussen (Sullivan) 5:09; 5, Kamloops, Forsey (Love, B. ## ROLL OUT THE BARREL!

Kelowna In Bygone Days

From the Files of The Kelowna Courier

TEN YEARS AGO
Thursday, November 16, 1939
More than $2,000 was subscribed this week in the first two days of the war activities campaign. Objective in the 11-day drive is $20,000.

Despite congestion of wheat movement on the prairies causing delay in shipments from B.C., fruit heads here are hopeful the domestic deal will surpass the 1938 figures by the end of the month.

The placid waters of Okanagan Lake, the stillness of the air and the crowd of several hundred at the Cenotaph in the park was a sharp contrast to the Remembrance Day in lands across the sea where the day of commemoration was shattered with the roar of artillery, marking another great conflict only 21 years after the signing of the Armistice in 1918.

Expenses incurred in the demolition of the Nychuk building on Bernard Avenue amounted to $439.40. Local merchants have selected December 6 for their annual Christmas Preview.

Dr. L. A. C. Pantone is the new president of the Kelowna Hockey Club; W. H. Cross and J. B. Spurr, vice-presidents, and H. E. Simpson, secretary-treasurer (re-elected). On the executive are: W. Thomas, J. F. Heap, Art Hall, W. Spear, E. Archer, Jack Ward, A. C. Lander, E. L. Fitzpatrick, Earl Hardie, Vic DeHart, A. Pearson, H. Kennedy, N. Iowski, W. M. Vance. Practices and games will be held at Vernon until natural ice is available here.

Over $90,000 in taxes were collected up to October 31, being 80.2 percent of the total levy.

An interesting ceremony was performed at St. Michael and All Angels' Church on Sunday morning when the archdeacon of the diocese dedicated to the Glory of God and the memory of the late Ian MacKenzie Cameron, lieutenant with the 15th Canadian Battalion. Alister Cameron, brother of the brave soldier, unveiled the memorial.

The normally peaceful life of Kelowna was disturbed for the first few days of this week when a number of "Huns" who claimed to be naturalized British subjects attempted to land from the Sicamous and make their homes in Kelowna. The C.W.A. and other returned men took the matter into their own hands and decided that this invasion must be stopped.

They attempted to land but found the gangway blocked by a solid mass of returned soldiers who refused to let them through, although offering no violence. Eventually the Sicamous had to proceed south with the would-be settlers, numbering about 20 still on board. The veterans warned all stopping points to the south and the same reception was accorded at each place. At Penikese a number of returned men kept an all-night vigil. On Monday, the men returned to Kelowna on the northbound trip but again their landing was opposed. On Wednesday, the Sicamous captured at 1:45 p.m. with police officials on board.

An attempt was made to negotiate with the veterans, with Lieut. Col. Belsen and Lieut. Col. W. H. Moodie acting for the latter. However, when the men saw the wharf jammed with several hundred veterans and general public citizens they decided they would not want to land anyway. They were taken north to Vernon and placed in the internment camp until the authorities decide what to do with them.

The British torpedo gunboat "Niger" has been torpedoed by a German gunboat in the Downs off the Kentish coast. All her officers and crew were saved. Athens states that a British cruiser has captured the Turkish sailing ships near the island of Tenedos.

Anarchy reigns in Avlona in Albania and that region is now a prey to civil war. A member of the German embassy has stated that when the Germans land in Britain, if the men, women and children stubbornly oppose them, as they likely will, the Germans will have to treat them as they treated the Belgians. Prevalence of many German spies in England was discussed in the House of Lords.

The Chilean admiral denied that the British warship Canopus has been sunk off Coroneil. Lieut. Mors, German officer, has been sentenced to life imprisonment for espionage at Alexandria. The British warship Canopus has been under detention leave Germany at once. An announcement has been made at Pretoria that the government will release the rebels until November 21 to surrender. The French naval forces have captured a Turkish torpedo boat which sailed out from the Lardanes. The Allies are trying a flanking movement around the German right. German guns have been silenced at Granne. In taking Dixmude, the Germans lost 10,000 men.

J. E. Wheeler has sold out his interests in the Royal Hotel to F. Lavigne and H. Dunk, who arrived from Alberta last week. Mr. Wheeler and family will move shortly to the prairies.

The Agricultural and Trades Association has been gazetted for the formation of a Farmers Institute for the Summerland district. Two branches have now grown from the parent organization which is known as the Osoyoos Farmers Institute and it is about time that this name was changed to designate its proper status—Kelowna Farmers Institute.

PEACHLAND W.I. PLANS TO HOLD YULE PARTY

PEACHLAND—Mrs. L. Watts and Mrs. J. A. Stump were appointed by the Women's Institute to act on a committee to make plans for the annual Christmas Tree party which will be held in the community next month.

During the discussion of general business, it was decided to leave the appointment of convener of various committees until the December meeting. A Christmas parcel has been packed and sent to the adopted institute at Herefordshire, Eng. and there was some discussion as to when the next parcel should be sent and what the contents would be.

The secretary, Mrs. C. T. Redstone read the monthly news letter. A letter also was received from Penikese asking if members of the institute had handicraft articles they wish to sell. A handicraft stall will be run in one of the stores, and it is hoped to sell the goods to tourists.

It was decided to contact all members before the December meeting to have an exchange of gifts and a program. Hostesses serving tea were Mrs. K. Domi and Mrs. A. E. Miller with Mrs. J. A. Stump assisting.

TALENT CONTEST BEING PLANNED AT WINFIELD

WINFIELD—What promises to be a very entertaining event, is the amateur talent concert scheduled for November 24, under the auspices of the United Church Women's Federation.

This is in aid of the new church, and it is hoped there will be a good attendance to help out this worthy cause. A goodly number of entries have been received and competition should prove very interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. M. (Bud) Gibbons of the Cariboo district are at present visiting Mrs. Gibbons, Sr., and other members of the Gibbons family.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zimmerman, of Vancouver, paid a brief visit to relatives in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug. Elliott, of Vancouver, formerly of Winfield, motored over the Hope-Princeton highway to spend the week-end in Rutland and Winfield.

John Pernes has rented his orchard, and he and his family have left for England where they will reside.

After a steady run of over two months, the Winfield Packinghouse has finished packing for the season. The Woodside House will continue for some time.

Among those travelling over the Hope-Princeton Highway during the week-end, were Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Moody and Mr. and Mrs. Rucben Krebs, Kenny and Lorraine, all visiting relatives in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Steele, Sr. who have spent the past two months with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Steele, left last week for their home in Nova Scotia.

On the Friday holiday, November

14, a number of volunteers made a good start in the plywood ceiling of the New Memorial Hall. Further work will continue this week.

AFTER HOURS
A change is often as good as a rest, and this applies particularly in the field of recreation. Office workers and men who sit or stand all day at machines may be tired without actually expending much physical energy. For these people moderate after-hours exercise in the form of games or hobbies is often more useful and health-giving than a mere rest.

From the B.C. Capital

The formal opening of the $1,750,000 Crease Clinic of Psychological Medicine at Essondale took place on November 16.

The building embodies the most modern features in design, construction and equipment for the diagnosis and treatment of early mental and nervous disorders. The clinic represents the culmination of the efforts of Dr. A. L. Crease, who has directed the mental health services of the province for the past twenty-five years, and appropriately bears his name. It embraces an entirely new idea in treatment by mental and nervous disorders. The building houses complete facilities for the covering all specialties in the field of general medicine and surgery, including a department of diagnostic and therapeutic radiology, a department of neurology, a department of ophthalmology, a department of physical medicine and clinical laboratories. A surgical suite is provided for general surgery, as well as brain surgery. The wards are decorated in pastel shades. Beds and night furnishings are in pale green, while all day furnishings are of maple, Empire Loyalist design. The drapes and carpets blend harmoniously. A solarium opens off the day space on each ward and is furnished in chrome furniture.

A charge of making a false statement for the purpose of obtaining unemployment insurance benefits was heard by Police Magistrate H. A. Angle in city police court recently.

Facts presented to the court showed that Henry Knorr, Jr. had been employed at the Granby Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. last March and on his return here had declared he had not worked on the days he had done so. He collected benefits to the amount of $15.05. Knorr pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs. Magistrate Angle also ordered repayment of the $15.05.

The case was investigated and prosecuted by district investigator R. Warrior of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, Nelson. The magistrate, in passing sentence, observed that in view of the circumstances he could hardly accept Knorr's statement that the matter was a mistake.

Our Town

By JACK SCOTT

SKIN DEEP

It sounds unlikely, I know, but the other night I got involved in an argument over Cleopatra. I happened to mention that someone I knew was "as beautiful as Cleopatra." Right away I was reminded of the no-longer-new "New Look" and dumpty by our standards. Of course, the man who made this observation is a conformist. He accepts present-day standards as his test. For all I know he may even admire the no-longer-new "New Look," certainly the cruellest blow to true female beauty since the bustle and bone corset. But the truth is—and the subject of my sermon today—that beauty in the female happens to be at a new low at the moment and probably all because of us foot men and our "standards."

Under present standards we males are presumably intended to worship a type I have decided to call the Late Consumptive. The standard factory model beauty of the day is thin angular, possessing the hips and shoulders of the anonymous figures on medical charts. The face to match this malnutrition frame is gaunt, hollow-cheeked and with a mouth like a scar. This woman may be seen in profusion in 10 million magazine advertisements. The face itself is produced to specifications, as finely-tooled as a lathe and just as empty of expression. It may be seen, too, on acres of motion picture screens and on calendars of coal companies and neighborhood butcher shops.

If I am to judge from my close study of the situation there is a veritable stampede of females from shop girls to society matrons, to look as nearly as possible like this master blueprint. The result, my chickadees, is the assembly line female, the mass carbon copy of a look—and deep gloom for any man of vision.

Now the girls behind the cafe counters and the girls in the banks and all the fine-looking girls of our hamlet have worked long hours to achieve this effect and they have succeeded.

But, by the Lord Harry, if Cleopatra were to show up behind a counter some morning, every male head would be spinning and the banked violins would start to play. In one of James M. Cain's exciting books two characters discuss the beauty of the tropical sea. As they watch, the fin of a shark slices the water. "The water, the surf, the colors on the shore. You think they make the beauty of the tropical sea," one character says. "They do not. It is the knowledge of what lurks below the surface of it. So it is with all beauty."

And so it is with the ladies. There is no character in pancake make-up, no warmth in the blue shadow of the eye-brow pencil, no depth of feeling in the tint of rouge. Without that expression of inner things a woman's beauty is a vase without a rose. And the expression comes from living fully and absorbing new experiences and challenges. No woman can be said to be truly beautiful until she is 30, for no woman is interesting until then. That is when the fin of the shark may break surface.

Certainly there are many very pretty girls in our town and I love 'em all. I like to look at them just as I like to hear a pleasant song or oggle a pleasing water color. But I would rather look at the wonderful mug of a Gracie Fields than gaze upon the vacant perfection of a Betty Grable.

And sometimes, sometimes once in a lifetime, your path chances to cross the path of a woman who has that inner beauty miraculously mirrored in a lovely face. And then you give the whip to your impulses.

Hewlett gave a very interesting report on the work of the East Kelowna Guide Company for the past year. Mrs. W. Hince reported on the activities of the 1st East Kelowna Brownie Pack for the past year. Mrs. H. Harsent expressed her thanks to Mrs. Hewlett and Mrs. Hince for the good work they were doing with the young people. The election of officers took place with the following result: president, Mrs. D. Evans; secretary, Mrs. A. Rowles; treasurer, Mrs. W. Murrell; committee, Mrs. H. Harsent, Mrs. J. Evans, Mrs. R. A. Widmeyer. Afternoon tea was served.

Packers Wallop Canadians 9-2 For First Defeat on Home Ice

By A.D.

KELOWNA Packers gave convincing proof that all is serene within when they trounced the league-leading Vernon Canadians on the latter's home ice Tuesday—a 9-2 drubbing, the worst beating the Canucks have taken this year.

Packers boosters must have sensed this one coming. They flocked to Vernon in droves to see the resurgent Packers, in their greatest display of spirit and purpose yet, whip the Canucks on their home ice for the first time.

By humbling the Canucks, Kelowna pulled up again on even terms with the Kamloops Elks, who the night before (Monday) snapped Vernon's eight-game unbeaten string with a 7-5 win at Kamloops. Elks and Packers now are tied for second spot, both with 13 points, and four points back of the pace-setters.

Tonight's game here should be a natural. Both boasting decisive triumphs over the Canucks, Packers and Elks tonight have sole possession of the runner-up spot as the goal. The winner will be only two points behind Vernon.

If previous showings mean anything—and in this Mainline-Okanagan league anything can happen—then Packers should be favorites for tonight. Packers and Elks have met four times. Out of that, Packers have two wins, Elks one. The other, the first game of the schedule, went to a 1-all overtime tie.

Game time tonight at Memorial Arena is 8:30.

Dressed in Sunday Best

Blossoming out for the first time in their new orange-black-white regalia, Korny Stewart's boys amazed their staunchest supporters as they overshadowed the Canadians in every department.

Even though being only two forward lines to Vernon's three, Packers never let up in their whirlwind attacks, blitzed the homesters both ways and earned the one-sided verdict all the way.

Their new-found back-checking power had the puzzled Canadian disorganized from the start. A brand new team in brand new uniforms just couldn't seem to do anything wrong.

Hardly before the last-minute spectators found their seats, Howard Amundrud set the trend by beating Glen Bowler with a high shot with the game only 16 seconds old. Canucks perked up momentarily a few minutes later when George Keryluka, used only sparingly in the past, notched the tying marker.

But from then on the inspired Packers were in complete command, with two defencemen—Amundrud and Jim Hanson—pacing the assault on the Vernon fortress with two goals each.

Inspired Play

Virtually everyone—from Al Laface in the net to the tenth man out front (Stewart used only 11 players, though 12 were stripped for action)—was afire with the will to win.

Stewart, back on defence for the first time this year, paired up with Hanson for another solid blocking unit. Former defencemen Jim Middleton impressed on the right wing spot with centre Gordon Mittle and Denny Semenchuk.

Hard-working Norm Knippleberg, who harried the Vernones no end whenever he was on, centred Frank Hoskins and Gordie Sundin. Gaeck was in uniform, but with the two lines looking so good, Stewart sat him out rather than bust up his combinations.

Packers were out front 4-1 at the end of the terrific first in which they outshot the homeowners 14-8. They boosted the lead 7-2 in the middle stanza and added another brace in the last period. Canadians were outshot 35-24 over the route.

Second Penalty Shot

The win was a team effort, with nearly everyone figuring in the counting. Middleton, Sundin, Knippleberg, Hoskins and Semenchuk got the other goals while Hanson drew an assist for three points, Mittle helped on two, Knippleberg and Semenchuk also garnered assists. Johnny Loudon was on the spot again, getting Vernon's only other goal early in the second period, slapping a shot in from a scramble, to cut the Kelowna lead to 4-2. For the second time in as many encounters between these two teams, a penalty shot was awarded. Tuesday, Len Wallington was given the special chance when he was tripped by Amundrud near the goal mouth. But Laface brilliantly out-guessed the man who beat him three times in 28 seconds in the previous game in Vernon.

Woody Woods missed Tuesday's game, absent through death in the line-up tonight. He is expected back in the line-up tonight.

First Period—1, Kelowna, Amundrud, 0:16; 2, Vernon, Keryluka (Mills), 6:13; 3, Kelowna, Middleton, Stewart, Hanson, Gaeck. Second Period—1, Kelowna, Stewart, 10:02; 2, Vernon, Penick, 10:02; 3, Kelowna, Amundrud, 10:40; 4, Penick, 10:40; 5, Kelowna, Amundrud, 10:40; 6, Penick, 10:40; 7, Kelowna, Amundrud, 10:40; 8, Penick, 10:40; 9, Kelowna, Amundrud, 10:40; 10, Penick, 10:40; 11, Kelowna, Amundrud, 10:40; 12, Penick, 10:40.

Referee: F. Janicki, W. Waites, both of Vernon.

(GIRLS' SECTION)

By Meko Mori

First of all this week, we would like to thank the arena commission. We neglected to mention last week that the girls trying out for the hockey teams are given free ice each week. Manager Percy Dowdington supplies them with sticks and skates. Turning from hockey to basketball, a large number of girls were on hand for the first practice and team selection. This team, however, may have many changes made before Coach Hugh Fitzpatrick decides which girls he will use. Hugh, last year, coached a good team—the Rutland Junior girls. All of us appreciate his taking time out from all his other activities to mastermind the girls this year.

Lambda First

The girls chosen for the team so far are: Joyce Turk, Alice de Pytfer, Lorraine Sheffield, Hazel Lansdowne, Thelma Gagnon, Jean Appleton, Audrey James, Linda Gibson, Dianne Fleck, Carol Wilson and Meko Mori.

ADVISE HUNTERS WHITE SWANS RESTING HERE

One Wounded by Hunters Mistaking Whistlers for White Geese

One Whistling Swan has been wounded and others resting on the Glenmore slough have been shot at, Game Warden W. R. Maxson confirmed this week. "Hunters ought to know better," said the game warden. "Anyone who can't tell a swan from a goose shouldn't be given a licence." Pointing out that stiff penalties are provided in the Game Act for anyone convicted of shooting at swans, Maxson said: "I have a fairly good idea who's responsible. But the trouble is I can't prove it."

MELVILLE MILLIONAIRE—MEN last year, Howard Amundrud (left) and Norm (Nipper) Knippleberg contributed no small share in the Kelowna Packers' 9-2 blasting on Vernon's home ice Tuesday night. Knippleberg scored once from behind the net, helped on another and broke up countless Vernon plays before they got started.

MANY PEOPLE ENJOY LAUREL CO-OP DANCE
 Close to one hundred and seventy-five people attended a banquet and dance in the new Legion Hall last Tuesday evening. The occasion marked the season's closing of the 12th Laurel Co-op in Kelowna and an enjoyable time was had by all. The hall was appropriately decorated with B.C. apple stickers and hats gave a New Year's air to the festivities. Speeches were brief and the entertainment was of excellent quality with encores demanded of each artist. All were impressed with the new hall and modern melodies, dances enabled the dancers to test the floor to its full advantage. A. C. Lander, assistant general manager, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., and

Life-Long Dream Realized As Sheila Henderson Gets Top Role in Ballet Dance

Fulfillment of a life-long dream came to eighteen-year-old dancer Sheila Henderson, of Glenora, recently when she was given the opportunity of dancing in a public performance in Winnipeg.

A graduate of the Mary Pratt School of dancing in this city where she studied for the past six years, Sheila left Kelowna this fall to study under Owen Lloyd in Winnipeg. She was taking a teacher's course which included studying for the intermediate examinations of the Royal Academy, London, England.

Daughter of Reece and Mrs. Charles Henderson, of Glenora, Sheila received only twenty-four hours notice regarding her public appearance when Eva Van Gency, whom she was understanding, pulled a tendon in her foot and was unable to continue in her role.

Thus Sheila appeared in the main supporting group to ballerina Jean McKenzie, of Vancouver, in the November performance of "Concerto" by Rachmaninoff.

Following her performance Sheila Henderson was notified that dancer Eva Van Gency would be unable to use her foot for the remainder of the season and that she would continue in her role as a permanent member of the ballet corp until the end of the season.

Sheila claims it is the thorough background training she received in Kelowna that carried her through her first public performance in Winnipeg and that experience gained through appearing in recitals and concerts in Kelowna was invaluable.

REPORT GIVEN ON REGIONAL CONFERENCE

A report on the annual meeting of the Okanagan regional council held in Revelstoke was read at the regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary to the Nurses Residence last Monday. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. W. Brown, with approximately 22 members present.

Mrs. R. Gore reported that sales of the Auxiliary memo calendars were going exceptionally well. Additional calendars may be secured by calling her at 956-R.

Announcement was then made that membership fees are now due and payable to treasurer, Mrs. V. Cumming. The next meeting will take the form of a Christmas party to be held at the home of Mrs. V. W. Hillier on December 12. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

HOW TO CASH WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES

B OF M CAN SAVE YOU TIME AND TROUBLE

Cashing War Savings Certificates yourself involves sorting your Certificates every month, endorsing and posting each one to Ottawa when it matures, and then cashing or depositing the cheque for it. Why not cash them the easy way?

You can skip this monthly bother by simply bringing all your Certificates to the Bank of Montreal. As each one falls due, the B of M will cash and credit it to your account. Cost of the service is trifling.

Many people find this B of M service helpful in saving toward better things, points out Walter Hoson, manager at Kelowna. They are less inclined to "hoard" the money, because it goes straight into their savings accounts without passing through their hands first.

Put your Certificates into B of M safekeeping tomorrow, and arrange for their credit upon maturity to an account in your name. You'll be cutting out a chore and at the same time looking after funds that will speed the day when you want most. 30-1-c

H. K. NEATBY CONFERES WITH BCFGA HEADS

Warn Children to Keep Out of Orchards During Parathion Spraying

Matters pertaining to the fruit industry were discussed when H. K. Neatby, chief of the science division, dominion department of agriculture, conferred recently with officials of the B.C.F.G.A.

Present at the conference were Ivor J. Newman, president of the B.C.F.G.A.; George Fitzgerald, C. A. Hayden, G. A. Barrat, Dr. H. R. McLarty, Dr. R. C. Palmer, Paul Walrod and G. Morgan.

Among matters discussed were parathion in orchards; vitaminized apple juice, apple cider and science services in the tree fruit area. Dr. Neatby stated he had been favorably impressed by the way in which the B.C.F.G.A. had supported the research activities of the science services in the orchard districts. He and his associates found the financial support by the active interest of the B.C.F.G.A. "very stimulating". Actually, the B.C.F.G.A. is held in the highest respect in Ottawa, the visitor declared.

Regarding parathion, Dr. McLarty stated a warning would be featured in the spray calendar for 1950. He recommended every effort be made to keep children out of an orchard for two or three days after parathion spraying.

Dr. Neatby listened with interest to a report by Paul Walrod, general manager, B.C. Fruit Processors, Ltd., on the virtues of vitaminized apple juice. He suggested that if all processors of apple juice vitaminized it to a standard acceptable by nutrition advisers, it might be possible to make representations in respect of this type of juice being included in any diet recommendations.

Dr. Neatby visited the processors' plant and also saw the K.G.E. in active operation. He suggested that further investigation into apple cider production might be worth while.

Rutlanders Want Less Expensive Equipment in Domestic Science Room

RUTLAND—Rutland ratepayers will be presented with a $93,000 school bylaw within the near future to cover the cost of adding an auditorium to the newly-constructed high school.

This was revealed at the annual school meeting of the Rutland district held Monday night. Trustee George Day explained items in the proposed bylaw. Walter Hall acted as chairman and C. H. Bissell, secretary.

Six school representatives were re-elected by acclamation. They are George Day, Jacob Anton (Black Mountain), Mrs. A. W. Gray, Paul Sedlack, Mrs. Alex Bell and Mrs. H. C. Lucas.

A general discussion resulted from trustee Day's report. A resolution favoring the installation of less expensive equipment in the domestic science room was passed, and also one urging trustees to see if a grant could be obtained jointly from the department of education and the school board, toward the cost of a new fire truck in Rutland.

Miss Peggy Stevens left on Saturday for Windsor, Ontario, where she will spend the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Elliott have been recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wes Barber, over the long weekend, motoring from Vancouver over the Hope-Princeton road.

Jake Runzer has been recently appointed to the position of mail carrier in Kelowna.

Mr. and Mrs. William Robb, of New Westminster, have taken up residence in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. John Holitzki motored to Saskatchewan last week to visit relatives and friends there.

Paul Money, who has been staying at the home of his aunt, Mrs. A. W. Gray, left on Saturday last for Blackpool, B.C., to visit his mother who is teaching school there. He will continue on later to his home in Bradner.

Mrs. Charles Philpott, of the Joe Rich district, is spending the winter at the coast.

Percy and Arthur Geen, and Rev. and Mrs. Stewart Crysdale left on Monday for the Cariboo for a week. While at Williams Lake, Mrs. Crysdale will visit old friends there, while the others are hunting in the Cariboo.

McLean & Fitzpatrick Ltd., closed down the night crew last weekend, and expect to complete all packing operations this week.

The Rutland Board of Trade is to hold a supper meeting on Friday evening Nov. 25. Dr. Laddlaw will be the speaker, and a short musical program has been arranged for the final general meeting of the year. The Women's Institute will do the catering.

Larry Preston is constructing a show room and store room on the lot east of his store for the line of implements he is now handling.

PRE-COOLING STONE FRUITS IS REQUESTED

According to C. A. Hayden, secretary of the B.C.F.G.A., the executive has forwarded to B.C. Tree Fruits Limited a resolution from the southern district council dealing with pre-cooling of some fruits. The resolution reads: That "B.C. Tree Fruits Limited take the necessary steps to have all apples, peaches and pears pre-cooled for the 1950 season if possible and in any case by the 1951 season".

HOPE STEEL FORMULA POINTS TO COAL SETTLEMENT

While C.I.O. President Philip Murray, right, smiles contentedly as he signs an agreement sending 25,000 men back to work in the Jones and Laughlin corporation, fourth largest steel producer in the U.S., negotiators in the coal strike are still striving for a formula that will settle the U.S. coal mines dispute.

OTTAWA REPORT

By O. L. JONES, M.P.

Since writing my last letter to you three events of considerable importance have taken place in the House. They are the decision of the government to allow rent increase, resignation of Mr. McGregor, chairman of the combines investigating board and a lengthy discussion on the Honourable Mr. Winter's housing proposals.

Dealing with the first of these, rent controls, Tuesday of this week was given entirely to a discussion on rentals and controls in general. Practically every member of the C.C.F. spoke against the increase in rent. One or two Conservatives and one or two Social Credit members also spoke on the subject. I shall briefly try and give you the outline of views of the different groups taking part in the debate by quoting extracts from their speeches.

Mr. M. J. Coldwell (Rosedown-Biggar, C.C.F.):

"Of course I readily admit that the policy announced by the minister of finance was in line with the general policy of decontrol instituted by the government after the war. We hold the view that the removal of beneficial controls and subsidies following the war has resulted in the cost of living in this country reaching unprecedented heights. The government may say that this was all done before the last general election, and that therefore this policy was approved by the electors of Canada on June 27th last, when they gave the government the green light to proceed with its policies. But I do not believe the people thought the government would allow drastic increases in domestic rents before something had been done to provide housing accommodation, which would be within the reach of great masses of the Canadian people. If the view is taken, as is sometimes put forward, that the people of Canada supported the policy laid down by the government in these particulars, then all I can say is that many of the people of Canada who are complaining today are getting precisely what they voted for."

Mr. Donald M. Fleming (Eglinton, Progressive Conservative):

"It needs to be said, and said most emphatically, that this announcement represents a government decision, and a decision by the government alone. Parliament has had no voice whatever in the new order that has been made. Parliament has not been consulted in any way. The minister of finance simply came into the house and announced a fait accompli. He simply acquainted the house with the fact that the government, by executive decree, had imposed these increases ranging up to twenty-five per cent."

"The minister has talked on previous occasions—and I think this is the expression he has used of 'cushioning the shock of complete decontrol'. If the 25 per cent increase represents a cushioning of the shock, then I think that the tenants are entitled to plead with Providence to spare them any more of these government cushions."

Mr. C. E. Johnston (Bow River, Social Credit):

"No question about it that the action the government has taken upon itself to increase rents by 20 and 25 per cent is going to start another surge across the country for increased wages. We cannot blame the trade unions for asking increases in their wage scales when the government makes it absolutely impossible for wage earners to carry on at present wage rates. The government is creating this chaotic state. They are demanding that unions go out on strike in an endeavour to obtain increased wages. The government is creating the condition which is throwing thousands of people out of employment through the necessity of having to go on strike to obtain increased wages resulting from government action."

From these extracts taken from Hansard you can readily understand that many members were with me in the possible effect of 25 per cent rent increase at the present time.

McGregor's Resignation

Mr. McGregor's resignation as chairman of the combines investigation board was quite unexpected as Mr. McGregor has been regarded by all as an excellent and capable chairman who has done his work well and apparently he was peeved that the government would take action after the work of finding the existence of these combines had been done. In fact his latest report on the flour milling industry was what brought the matter to a head. The law calls that when a report is given to the minister, it has to be made public within fifteen days. In this case Mr. Garson frankly admitted in the House that the report had been in his hands since last year so promptly the opposition seized on this as an opportunity to take the Minister to task for failure to carry out the law of Canada. As the daily press across Canada carried a full report of the discussions that took place, I will not, at this time add any comments on my own behalf. I think that the combines investigation act which comes before the House within the next week or so will be strengthened and real teeth put into it so that in future the government will be able to take action to curb the tendency in Canada to form monopolies.

The other matter of housing is still under discussion. All discussions centre around the need for half a million low rental or subsidized houses. There are several suggestions already presented to the minister as to the best method of meeting the demand for homes for the low wage earners of the Dominion. Judging from the discussions the most favoured would be a subsidized low rental home taken care of by the three governing bodies, that is, municipal, provincial and federal.

The bill dealing with P.E. is sailing along without any opposition. This bill would provide a federal government grant of $15,000 per mile to complete the eighty odd miles to Prince George. This bill will be finally passed, and I am satisfied without any opposition.

During the week I spoke on behalf of some of our B.C. municipalities who are anxious to get access to money for self-liquidating projects. I asked the government to reopen the municipal improvements assistance act. Under this act $30,000,000 was placed aside to be loaned out to municipalities at 2 per cent but the government closed down its operation in 1940. This fund has ap-

SLEEP COMBATS FATIGUE
One of the most cruel tortures known to man consists of forcing a person to remain awake many hours without rest. Everyone needs regular sleep to stay healthy and few adults can afford to cut their daily rest below eight hours. Sleep combats fatigue which leads to poor quality work, accidents and low resistance to disease. Your ability to work and enjoy life depends on getting enough sleep. Take all you need.

'JAIL DELIVERY'

Christmas Seals Mailed To Two Thousand Homes

TWO thousand homes in the area between Winfield and Peachland have received Christmas seals through the mail according to officers of the Mary Ellen Boyce Chapter of the I.O.D.E. which is the workhorse organization in this district in the fight against tuberculosis.

"Christmas is the time for giving, for health is one thing that cannot be maintained without the help of others. Through the Christmas Seal sale, citizens have the opportunity to help maintain a high standard in respect to tuberculosis. It is the committee's hope that the response will be generous as it has always been in the past. This is Kelowna's chance to fight TB," she concluded.

IODE officers emphasized that they had undertaken the Christmas Seal sale here purely because they thought it was a job which had to be done. All money received is forwarded to the Canadian Tuberculosis Association. Mrs. A. Hooper heads the IODE committee for this work.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TRIBUTE TO PIONEERS
Editor, Kelowna Courier,

I was very much interested in reading your first class report on the opening of the Hope-Princeton highway. In it you speak of the early pioneers and what a debt we younger folk owe them. This has prompted me to write a few lines regarding a gracious old couple who recently asked me over to tea.
They haven't lived here very long but are very kindly and hospitable and the gracious lady served a fine cup of tea with a silver tea service one hundred and seventy years old.
There wasn't a dent or mark on it, it having been presented to her by her grandmother.

Just think in this modern day and age, this tea service was manufactured in the year A.D. 1774. What a lot this old silver tea set had seen in the intervening years and what a pity it cannot tell some of the things it has seen and heard.
After tea we had quite a chat with the host and it appears he came west before the C.P.R. went through in 1883, and took up land adjacent to the town of Waseley on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway and worked on the track at the time of the Riel Rebellion when a call was made for volunteers to join the Moose Mountain Scouts.

They were supplied with a good horse and a western saddle but the uniform was a red tunic with a tail something like the tunic of the Grenadier Guards. No one bothered much about the type of trousers and hat. The duties he was called upon to perform was to patrol south of the main line and keep in touch with other members of the troop, who kept in touch with one another all the way from the Moose Mountains, to what is now the City of Moose Jaw.

He told the writer there was no settlement at all on his journey south of the main line, just a huge expanse of open prairie, and even as early as this there were no buffalo, they having been all killed off for their hides.

He stated that it was quite easy to follow the track of a horse or a wagon and they would show up quite clearly in the long grass and be fairly easy to follow. Evidently the officers of the corps were afraid of some uprising among the Indians who had a reserve in the Moose Mountains, which is north of Carleton Place on the Souris-Winnipeg line.
There was also a reserve not very far south of Waseley, but they had no trouble at all with the Indians in these two places.

The writer had an opportunity of seeing the medal which was presented to this gentleman, the ribbon

Gaston Lavallee, one of three survivors of the airplane crash 120 miles north of Noranda, Que., is helped from the rescue craft at Noranda.
He was immediately rushed to the hospital there, suffering from cold and internal injuries and weak from four days without food.

—Central Press Canadian
Bud Cockerton parachuted with food and first aid supplies. The bodies of the two who died were still beside the wreckage of the burned plane.

in red, white and blue (but having seen one other medal of this kind the writer is inclined to think that the original ribbon was dark green). On one side of the medal is Queen Victoria, and on the reverse side, a wreath of maple and the words "North West 1885" Canada.
On the edge are the words "Moose Mountain Scouts" and the name of the recipient. I just wonder how many men there are in this territory who were presented with one of these medals. Sixty-five years is a long time and what a lot has happened since that time in the history of Canada, and what a lot of information these old folks have respecting the many changes in this land of ours. I sometimes think what a pity it is that we cannot have recorded for posterity a shallow history of the life of those old timers who bore "the heat and burden of the day" in a land not favored with many advantages such as we know them now, no phones, no radios, no automobiles, no roads, and in many years not too much of the world's goods.

But these people laid solid foundations as evidenced by a gold headed cane the writer saw presented to the old gentleman upon his completion of many years as mayor of the town and member of the legislature.

What a pity it is that climatic conditions make it almost necessary for good people like this to leave their home town that they have helped to build, and where they are much honored and respected, to come to a land where they are almost unknown.

So, hats off to the pioneers. They laid foundations everywhere so that Christian homes could be built and the bare places made livable. In the hurly, burly of modern life where there seems to be such a mad scramble, it is well that we should sometimes ponder and think about those who came first and made a place where we could follow and establish a home.

WANTS OPERA BROADCASTS.

Dear Sir:

May I be allowed to express through the medium of your paper the disappointment which many people feel when they learn that we are not to have the metropolitan opera broadcast over CKOV this season.

The argument against having this broadcast is that of financial loss to the station, and that several people like to have the news, etc.
sometimes ponder and think about
those who came first and made a place where we could follow and
establish a home.

But from a cultural point of view, the dropping of this broadcast from the programs is the throwing away of one of the greatest privileges of hearing the world's best artists performing great music of universal appeal that we, on this continent can enjoy.

In Europe the opera houses are so full that seats have to be booked long in advance. This is because people, from childhood up, are familiar with the great music of the operas. No doubt some of the modern American music would be totally unappreciated by them, because they have not heard it frequently. If anything is wrong with any part of the body, something is at once about it, glasses, hearing aids, a bottle of medicine, etc.
But if the musical taste of the public is at fault, no attempt is made to correct it, by giving them so much good music, that they come to know it, and ask for it.
Music, the great music that has stood the test of time is the one thing that people of all nationalities have in common. The new Canadian from any part of the old world can enjoy Wagner, or Verdi, or Puccini, or any of the great masters. Music has been known to bring enemies together even in the middle of a war. That is the music that is universally known.

CKOV, anxious to satisfy the desires of all listeners, is trying to put on the opera as a rebroadcast at a later hour. The CBC has, so far, not complied with this. It is hoped that all interested in music will bring pressure to bear on the proper authorities.

LOST YOUR SWIPE?

Has someone swiped your windshield swipe lately?
If you've missed yours the past week, chances are John Schneider has it. Mr. Schneider found 15 of them in the cab of this truck parked in the lot south of the arena.

Police believe one or more juveniles must have taken the swipes off cars parked downtown. They are easier to detach than to put back on (and less costly, too), the victims will probably agree.

Mr. Schneider intends to turn the whole lot over to the police.

Many Outstanding Paintings On Display at Local Store

Paintings of many local artists highlight the international art exhibit being held this week at Mc and Mc's store, with the quality of these paintings comparing very favorably with those of the older and more famous works of display.

Many well known local names are prominently featured among the signatures on the various paintings and include those of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Williams, Gwen Lamont, E. H. Oswell, Betts Nighswander, Mrs. S. M. Gore, Enid Peers, Mary Bull, R. A. Widmeyer, Mrs. H. A. Willis, Will Harper, Michael Hall and many others.

One particularly outstanding painting was that entitled "The Old Mining Centre" by Rufus Williams. Consisting of a handful of dilapidated and deserted log buildings hemmed in by towering mountains, this painting has an almost photographic clarity. The colors are very striking and the whole effect is powerful.

Another well known local artist with three very pleasing studies on display is E. H. Oswell. His three water colors entitled "Evening Quiet", "Evening After Rain" and "Willow By The Lake" all depict scenes of the Okanagan Lake. The soft colors and hazy backgrounds are particularly effective.

Comparing favorably with her famous portrait, the "Old Guide" Mrs. Lamont exhibited an oil painting of her husband, entitled "Portrait of John Lamont". The same powerful and rugged characteristics that made the "Old Guide" so powerful are again noticeable in this work and the facial expressions are very realistic.

Two very pleasing water colors by Mrs. H. A. Willis are also among the paintings on display and include scenes called "Otter Bay Near Vernon" and "Old Log Stable and View".

TIMELY HINTS

Soap in a wash basin always seems to be wet. This makes the basin untidy and wastes a lot of soap. As a remedy, try this. Take the soap from a box, stick it in the middle of a cake of soap. It will rest on the metal top, is smooth to the hands, and the soap, being up slightly from the basin, is always dry and easy to get hold of.

What's New at Heather's?

By MIL CRITTENDEN

Christmas look for a lovely lady! Glamorous lace-laden lingerie that every woman dreams of owning. Why, even a big girl would write to Santa for these. So, GENTLE-MEN, please take note. She'll depend on that dashing husband of hers to steal her heart away with Christmas bounty like this. Slip, nightie and pantie sets in white, pink or ice blue satin at 14.95 and 22.95. Sizes 32 to 38.

Yes men, remember! For the girl who walks the dog, criticizes your haircuts, wrestles with your collar button... and in general makes life wonderful, Heather's has the best boudoir and lingerie she loves. You'll make her feel like a queen... and realize just how lucky she is!

See here, my fine feathered friend! Look what the winds of fashion have wafted in for fall. A score of little feather hats in Peacock blue, Emerald, Black, Canary yellow or Coffee-and-Cream. Tiny bonnets and head-hugging cloches—every inch swathed in downy feathers.

These are knowingly beautiful—consciously dramatic. Trimmed with a soaring quill—a flight of shimmering cool feathers—or a vivid spray of plumage winging back from your face.

Even a modest Miss or Mrs. would preen herself in one of these. See them—try them on—at Heather's tomorrow. You'll find them a lighthearted touch of whimsy for the gala season ahead. 10.95.

Your December Horoscope! — There's a man coming into your life—if he's not already present—find you in this shimmering taffeta cocktail suit. It's the brightest star of all in our galaxy of sparkling "after five" fashions. Wear it with the jacket and you have a suavely molded cocktail suit. Doff the jacket and—presto—you're wearing a bare, bold and prophetic "short formal." The whole costume is done in a mood of gaiety and opulence, as witness the sumptuous richness of the fabric itself. It's very elegant—very swish—and unmistakably fall. 49! 39.95.

Romantic as a southern belle — this billowing evening gown with enormous hooped skirt. A steal from the Scarlett O'Hara era—it's demure as the flick of a fan—flirtatious as fluttering eyelashes. Fashioned from crisp leaf green taffeta, with a fitted bodice, tiny hand-span waistline and huge whirlaway skirt. Comes with a quaint little ruffled stole to match. Like many other gowns at Heather's, it's new as tomorrow's headlines—yet reminiscent of a bygone era. One of a comprehensive collection. 39.95.

You'll cause oh-and-ah comment in this! An exceedingly different dress that combines two shades of black and achieves a new kind of black magic. It's a simple, almost classic design—utterly devoid of clutter and blessed with distinctive styling. Its sorcery lies in the contrast of texture and tone—in the midnight blackness of velvet combined with smooth black taffeta. The skirt is designed in dramatic chequer-board effect with large squares of velvet alternating with taffeta. It's a dress to live in and love—for this season and many more to come. 29.95 —Advt

OVER 100 GUESTS GATHERED to witness the charming wedding ceremony last Saturday evening in Westbank, at which charming Kikuko, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Masui Taneda, became the bride of Kiyoshi, fifth son of Mrs. C. Fukui and the late Mr. Fukui, all of Westbank.

Rev. S. Pike officiated at the double ring ceremony in the Westbank United Church.

The traditional white satin of the bride gown was highlighted by a cascade bouquet of red roses carried by the bride. The soft tones of pink and yellow styled in taffeta were chosen by the two bridal attendants, Miss Bessie Taneda, maid of honor, and Miss Dorothy Fukui, bridesmaid. Each carried colonial nosegays of white mums centred by a pink rose.

Supporting the groom were Stanley Taneda, best man, Kuzui Taneda and Richard Fukui, ushers.

'Round the Town

Honor of giving the first dance of the season in the newly constructed Senior High School building is being bestowed on members of the Boys' Hi-Y Club, according to president Pat Carew.

The dance is scheduled for Friday evening, November 25, in the school cafeteria with Carl Dunaway's orchestra providing musical entertainment for the evening. Commencing around 8:30 p.m., the dance will continue until midnight and dress will be semi-formal.

Open to all, this is the second annual dance of the Boys' Hi-Y Club and arrangements for the affair will be in the hands of members themselves. Committees to take care of the different phases in planning the affair have been formed and include the following: decorations, Bob Lennie, Ken Turk, Dave Brown, Tony Tozer and Jimmy Butler; refreshments, Charles Downing, Brian Casey and Lorne Greenaway; advertising, Dunc Willis, Don Butcher, Roger Smeeth, Monty DeMara and Bill Fisher; musical arrangements, Terry Elford, Stan Burns and Ken Lipset.

Retailers throughout the city are urging customers to do their Christmas shopping as early as possible this year to prevent last minute rushes. Considering there is little time left before Christmas, many people already are on the prowl for novelty gift suggestions.

For the teen-aged girl who likes to carry coke money around without having to bother with a wallet or handbag, a cute idea for a gift to tuck into her Christmas stocking is a bracelet seen recently in a jewelry store on Bernard Avenue. In either imitation gold or silver, this link bracelet is fastened by a miniature barrel containing sections to hold stray nickels, pennies and dimes.

For women of any age an excellent and very welcome gift would be a pair of hand made gloves fashioned in lovely fabrics to suit her taste.

A SCENTED TOUCH

A gift of perfume in an interesting container has always proved a brief outline of the work done at Sovereign Grand Lodge when he recently was one of the representatives for British Columbia. The evening concluded with card and dancing. The next meeting will be held in Summerland next May.

Westbank Wedding of Wide Interest Throughout Valley

WESTBANK — One hundred and sixty guests were present at the charming ceremony in Westbank United Church, Saturday evening, when Kikuko, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Masui Taneda, of Westbank, became the bride of Kiyoshi, fifth son of Mrs. C. Fukui, all of Westbank, and the late Mr. Fukui. Held at 7:30 p.m. the double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. S. Pike, the church being decorated for the occasion with yellow and bronze mums and soft-tinted snapdragons.

Entering the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, the lovely bride was gown in traditional white satin, the fitted bodice accented with matching lace yoke and sleeves, highlighted by a wide-scaled collar. The full skirt, with lace drop apron and soft pleats, formed a bustle which fell to a short train below.

A close-fitting bandeau of seed pearls on net caught her full-length embroidered veil which ended in a train. Her slightly cascaded shower bouquet of crimson roses and white mums offered striking contrast and was tied with wide white satin loops folded through-out.

Leading the bridal entourage was the bride's sister, Bessie Taneda, as maid of honor, in a floor-length dress of pink moire taffeta fashioned with square neckline, shirred bodice, slit cap sleeves and full skirt. Her lace-edged colonial nosegay was of tiny white mums surrounded by pink carnations and centred by a pink rose.

Bridesmaid Dorothy Fukui, the groom's niece, wore a similarly fashioned gown of yellow taffeta with inserts of eyelet yoke. Her colonial bouquet was formed of white mums circled by tiny blue flowers and centred by a pink rose. Both maids wore frilly white picture hats tied in big bows beneath the chin and topped with pink and yellow roses to match their gowns. Groomsmen were Stanley Taneda, the bride's younger brother, while her elder brother, Kazui, travelled from Vancouver where he is attending U.B.C., to be present at his sister's wedding. With the groom's brother, Richard Fukui, Kazui acted as usher.

Organist was Mrs. M. E. Dobbin and during the signing of the register Mrs. June Jaud sang, "O, Perfect Love".

The groom's gift to the bride was a travelling case and her attendant's double-strand pearls and cedar chests of stationery. Gifts to the groom's attendants were tie-pins and folding tie-racks.

Catering to the reception in Westbank Memorial Hall was the Jr. Women's Auxiliary of Westbank United Church. In the receiving line with the bridal party were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Taneda and the groom's mother, Mrs. Fukui. Mrs. Taneda wore a brown crepe dress with lace bodice and her corsage was of yellow carnations and a yellow rose. Mrs. Fukui also was costumed in brown with complementing corsage.

The toast to the bride, who was born and grew up in Westbank, was proposed by Mr. T. B. Reece and responded to by the groom. Guest speakers were Rev. S. Pike, Rev. Y. Yoshioka and Rev. D. M. Perley. Presiding at the urns were Mrs. T. B. Reece, Mrs. Clifford Dobbin, Mrs. D. Jaud and Miss Gwynne Goulds. Serviteurs, headed by the groom's sister, Mrs. Betty Murakami, included Misses Mary, Betty and Alice Taneda, Kay and May Walker, Alk and Min Tanaka and Esther Keady.

The bride's table was centred with a beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake flanked by four tall white tapers.

For going away the bride chose a gray-green gabardine suit with black accessories and complementing corsage. This travelling outfit was topped with a airforce-blue top-coat.

Out-of-town guests included Rev. and Mrs. D. M. Perley and Rev. and Mrs. Y. Yoshioka, Kelowna; Misses Jessie and Jane Freach, Kamloops, and formerly of Westbank, whom the bride has not seen for eight years; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fukui and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fukui, Greenwood; Mr. and Mrs. Murakami, Lumby; Mr. and Mrs. Jaud, Rutland and Miss Gwynne Foulds, Kelowna.

Travelling over the Hope-Prince-Highway, Mr. and Mrs. Fukui are spending a week's honeymoon in Vancouver and on their return will take up residence in Westbank.

POLICE STUDY FINGERPRINTS AFTER BREAK-IN

May Lead to Identity of Person Who Broke Into Westbank Bank

Excellent fingerprints that may lead to the identity of the person or persons responsible for the bank break-in at Westbank sometime Saturday night are being studied at the B.C. Provincial Police Criminal Investigation Branch at Kamloops. "That's the only lead we have," said Sergeant R. B. McKay, NCO in charge of local provincial police, this morning. "But it's a good one."

The fingerprints were found on pieces of the window broken to gain entry to the Bank of Montreal branch at Westbank. Though the safe, containing an undisclosed amount of money, was tampered with, only the bank revolver was taken.

Fingerprint expert Detective-Constable J. W. Todd, of the C.I.B., Kamloops, photographed the prints here. A 1949 red Mercury light delivery truck appears to have "vanished in thin air," according to provincial police conducting a valley-wide search.

The truck, bearing licence plates C49-081, was stolen early yesterday afternoon from the lane near Kelowna Furniture Co. Ltd., Pender Street.

Advised about 2 p.m. of the theft, police here immediately notified Penticton and Vernon detachments.

A truck answering the description was seen crossing the lake on the 1:30 p.m. ferry yesterday. A road block was thrown up south of here but the missing truck did not show up.

EDITORIALS

Mary Ellen Boyce Chapter of the I.O.D.E. is asking you to buy Christmas Seals to help pay for the prevention of tuberculosis. Neither they nor you will know exactly whose life you save or make easier by your gift. There were about 4,700 deaths from tuberculosis in Canada last year. If we can cut that number by 500 next year, and another 500 the next year, and so on, we won't know whose life has been saved, but we will know we had a chance to do something and did it. There are about 15,000 Canadians spending Christmas away from their families in sanatoria. When the number is reduced to 14,000, and then to 13,000 and so on down, we will not know which father or mother of our acquaintance is at the head of the Christmas dinner table instead of sitting up in bed with a tray. But we will know that if we helped in the prevention of tuberculosis we took a hand in someone's happiness—and a fine thought it is on Christmas Eve, or any other night of the year for that matter.

So for our own contentment as well as the health of others, let's buy and use Christmas Seals.

UBIQUITY

Few are the communities of size that do not boast a public library where readily obtainable are the histories, the observations, and the fantasies of the world and its people dating back many hundreds of years. With the avowed purpose of getting the right book to the right person at the right time, the public library is an institution of respect and high esteem. It is an outstanding source of informal education, treasure house of thrilling entertainment.

Whether it be the lending of books or the selling of drugs supplies, the basis for success is the ease of accessibility. For many years Browns Prescription Pharmacy has been readily accessible to the public of Kelowna, day or night. A quick look at your telephone directory gives you a day or night number to call for any emergency. Then a free delivery service brings your needs to your door in a flash. ## POPPY SALES NET VETERANS AROUND $700

Gross Receipts from Sales of Poppies and Wreaths Estimated at $2,249

Canadian Legion's local poppy fund is expected to benefit to the extent of $700 as a result of sales of poppies and wreaths.

While complete figures still are not available, gross receipts are estimated at $2,249. This is made up of $749 received through sale of poppies on the street November 5, and $1,500 from sale of wreaths.

The gross intake is a little higher than last year, Legion secretary Bill Kane reported. But due to the higher cost of poppies and wreaths, the net receipts are down a little from 1948.

Balance of the money goes to veteran shops, operated by disabled veterans, who supplied the poppies and wreaths.

Street sales of Poppy Day (November 5) were handled chiefly by the Sea, Air and Army Cadets and ladies of the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion. Mr. Kane was in charge of the sales of wreaths.

Chairman of the Poppy Fund campaign was Peter Bell. The estimated net amount of $700 will be used to assist local veterans and their families.

REMAND BOGUS CHEQUE ARTIST

Pleading guilty to obtaining goods and cash by means of a worthless cheque in the amount of $15, John P. Holley, West Summerland, was remanded on bail for sentence next week, when he appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate H. H. Angle in district police court Tuesday.

Bail was set at $50. Complainant was A. Kutyik, merchant on the Vernon road.
